THE OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIFORNIA

Artist Maxine Albro (Mrs. Parker Hall) greets Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams, longtime Carmel residents, at the preview party June 6 that opened her current art show, "Paintings From Tide Pools" at the Community Room gallery of the Carmel Rancho Center. The public may view the show through July 7.

Juvenile Delinquency No Major Problem . . Yet

No great juvenile delinquency problem exists in the Carmel area at present, despite the arrest of eight youths last month for burglary and petty theft, but parents had better heed a warning, spend more time with their children, also set definite behavior rules and stick to them, was the outcome of a meeting in city hall Monday.

Police Chief Clyde Klaumann, Sheriff Jack Davenport, Judge Eugene Harrah, Superintendent of Schools Medill Bair and Chester V. Lewis, a sociologist, presented a panel discussion on juvenile problems at the request of Mayor Herbert Blanks.

This was followed by discussion from school administrators, student leaders, heads of parents clubs, Girl Scout and Youth Center representatives, Police Commissioner James Buffington and Al Giovanetti, county juvenile probation officer.

All were members of a committee appointed by Mayor Herbert Blanks to study juvenile problems in Carmel and its environs.

At the end of two and a half hours' talking, Mr. Blanks appointed Dan Yurkovich, Carmel Junior High School vice principal, as chairman of a permanent committee. Other members will

Trees On Scenic Are Suffering From Salt Burn

Trees along Scenic Drive are suffering from an overdose of salt spray and spells of unusual weather is the diagnosis Mayor Herbert Blanks received yesterday from Dr. Arthur McCain of the University of California.

Alarmed last month by the brown condition of trees along the shore, Mr. Blanks asked Dr. McCain, plant pathologist from the university's agricultural extension service, to come to Carmel and look at natural growth in the beach area.

Dr. McCain took samples of the blighted trees for analysis. The results of his research are:

(1) no apparent pathological condition exists. All affected trees and vegetation are salt-burned on the windward side.

(2) This salt burn, to which the natural growth, and particularly cypresses, are highly resistant does not normally blight the trees as it has this year. However, this winter there was a long period of dry weather combined with unusually high temperatures. Added to this combination was another of high surf and heavy salt drift on westerly winds, plus almost no fog. As a result of these conditions salt accumulated on the vegetation. Usually this accumulation is washed off by rain or heavy fog.

Mayor Blanks, himself a forester, says the above diagnosis satisfies him. John Dowdakin of the California Division of Forestry adds that Dr. McCain's report "is a completely rational solution" to the brown boughs beside the beach.

A similar condition may not

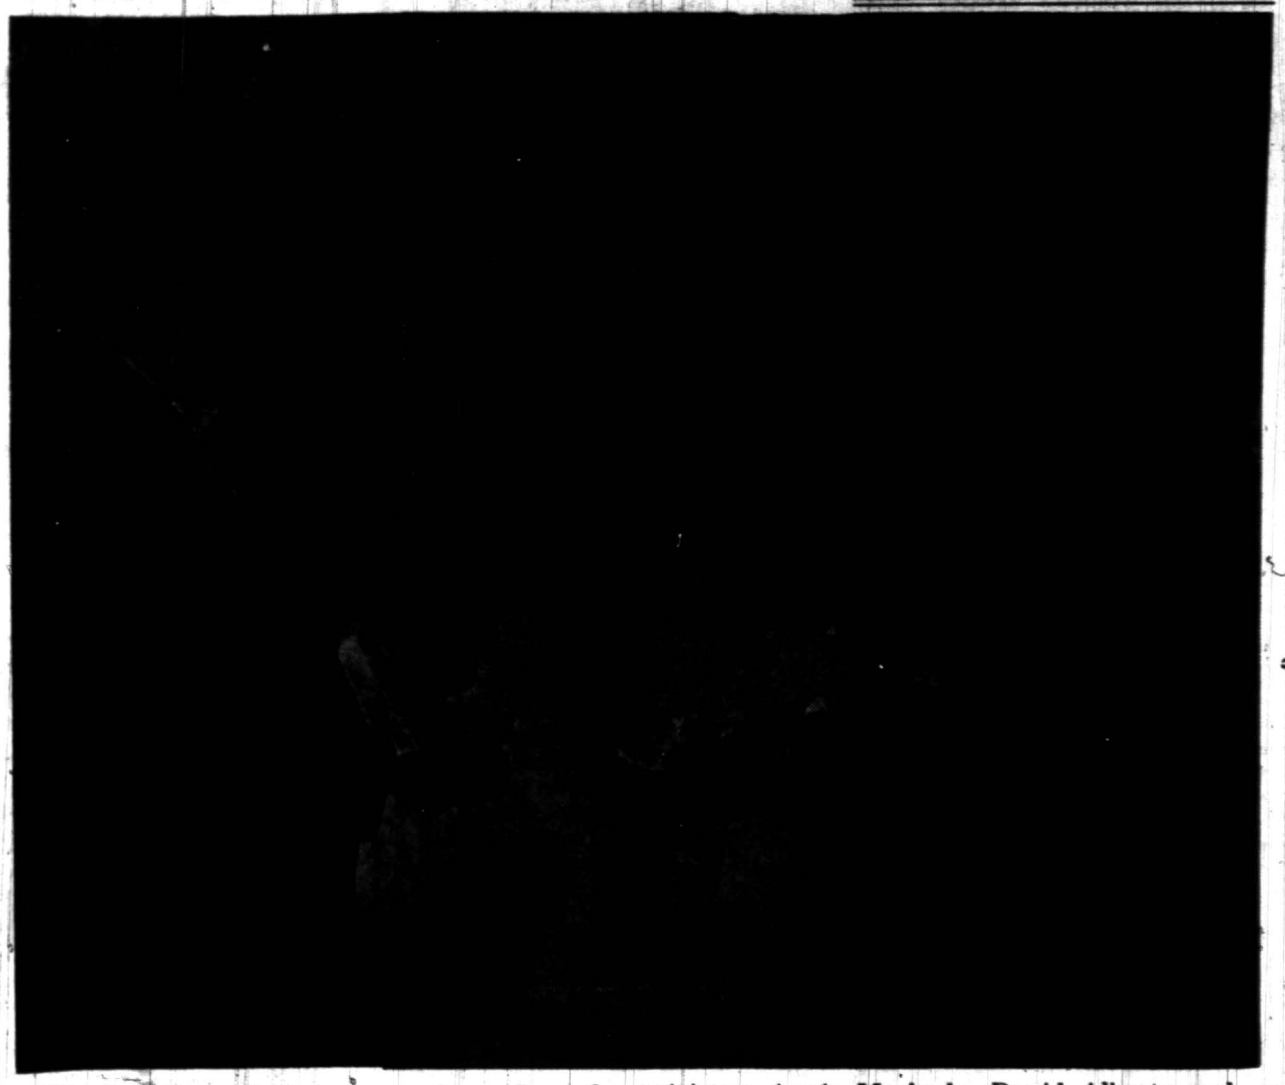
American Legion To Dedicate Plaque On Memorial Arch

Tomorrow at 4 p.m., a bronze plaque honoring Carmel residents who served in World War I will be dedicated in ceremonies conducted by Carmel American Legion Commander Paul T. Artelian and Kerman Alderson, commander-elect. Mayor Herbert Blanks and other city officials will attend the dedication.

Funds to provide the plaque for the memorial arch at the intersection of Ocean Avenue and San Carlos Street were raised by public subscription. The memorial arch was designed by the late Charles Sumner Greene of Carmel, famed American architect.

Over the years the purpose of the arch was forgotten by many. The plaque will serve to remind the public of the Carmel men who participated in World War I. Dedication ceremonies will take place at the arch.



Viewing the paintings were three Carmel musicians: Angie Machado, David Alberto and Frederick Schaad (right). Miss Machado will leave the Peninula soon for a summer vacation in the Hawaiian Islands.

No. 60

It's Father's Day on Sunday, so we work up lots of steam to propagate a one-day show to prove we're on the beam. We shower him with soap and sox, and shaving cream in jars; silk handkerchiefs, or else a box of Philippine cigars.

Then comes the shirts and cigarettes, pink cuff links or a pen; cute brush and combs which come in sets, slick slippers for his den. Pajamas he will never use he's got. But no one thinks to buy the poor old guy some booze — the kind he always drinks.

Some folks it seems will never learn that father needs a rest, with little fuss and more concern for what he likes the best. A quiet bout with deuces wild may be his secret yen. The best of men, though kind and mild, like freedom now and then.

So save the soap for Santa Claus, and fireworks for the Fourth; retract those patronizing paws; let nature takes its course. Put party pride and pomp away, and open up the gate—remember, this is father's day — not ours to celebrate!

First Theatre Melodrama A Delightful Laugh Tonic

Crooks, several of them; the femme fatale, painted and two-faced; a pair of Irish comics, male and female, looking for gold in "them thar" mountains; the wide-eyed trusting young gal and the six foot, handsome, dashing, shootin'-from-the-hip-hero; there you have it, the playwright's formula that wowed the audiences of California at the turn of the century and is currently crowding the First Theatre of Monterey every weekend.

"The Road to Frisco or Eastern Villainy and Western Virtue" is a triumph in type casting and presentation for Miss Laverne Seeman who is making her debut as a director of early American melodrama.

Miss Seeman has appeared on the First Theatre of Monterey stage through ten years in amazingly varied roles. We have heard her hiss with heartless abandon and coo like a turtle dove. A favorite of the theater's olio she has danced, sung and performed uproarious slap-stick through a decade, to the hand-clapping delight of hundreds of audiences. We congratulate Miss Seeman and the First Theatre Producer and Managing Director, Al Olinger. In giving Miss Seeman an opportunity to "show what she could do," he has discovered a fine director plus a talented actress all wrapped up in one!

A thriller in the grand tradition of the West that was, "The Road to Frisco" affords each member of the large cast creative opportunity. Types are drawn with dramatic distinction.

Doris Cameron as Eureka Hopkins with Tim Boone in the role of Bud Easton, play the love interest leads with assurance and enthusiasm. Marabee Rush, a First Theatre favorite, is a feline villainess after my own heart, handsome, dashing and vivacious. Her characterization is highly professional. Male members of the cast, enacting a fine assortment of villains and schemers, who presented their roles to the entire satisfaction of the enthralled audience, were Leslie Wood, Larry Black and Dave Bennett. And! the best comes last—character actress of the First Theatre for more than two decades and before that an actress in Broadway productions, Madeleine Hicks as Mary Ellen Donovan is a female with a tongue and, I add, a priceless brogue. Paul Hazdovac as Tim Donovan with a wife and trouble was hilarious. The pair acted with matchless wit and assurance.

"The Road to Frisco" has to be seen to be believed; Rhoda Johnson's costuming was as always authentic and colorful. In the play and in the olio acts, the women's dresses were delightfully styled, crisp and bright. The top-hatted men wore their well fitting formal clothes beautifully.

Paul Hazdovac, long-time favorite M.C. and possessor of a fine singing voice, kept the olio acts moving with zest. Outstanding was the pantomime "And the Curtain Fell" including the entire cast and narrated by Mr. Hazdovac. The patter number "Peninsula Travelogue" sung by Mr. Hazdovac and Larry Black with its timely "wise cracks" at our three cities, was a winner. Men of the Gold Coast singing "That's My Weakness Now" performed a handsome job of dazzling the ladies in the first ten rows.

See the current show at the First Theater, it is the laugh tonic that no real Peninsulan would dream of missing, an eye-opener, a return to the West that was, for visitors. —C.E.

Wayfarer Members To Bid Farewell To Dr. Gray Tonight

A reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. K. Fillmore Gray will be given tonight at 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall at the Church of the Wayfarer. Dr. Gray is leaving tomorrow to become pastor of Temple Methodist Church in San Francisco after 17 years in Carmel.

His appointment to the San Francisco pastorate, largest in the city, was announced at the conclusion of the annual conference of the Methodist Church in Stockton last week.

New pastor of the Wayfarer is the Reverend Lawrence K. Whitfield who is leaving Temple Church to come here.

Temple Church is located at Junipero Serra Boulevard and Nineteenth Avenue in the vicinity of San Francisco State College. A quarter of a million dollar fellowship and education building will be consecrated at the church site next month.

Friends in the community are invited to join church members in bidding Dr. and Mrs. Gray farewell this evening.

Letters To Editor

St. Louis, Mo.

How wonderful to think that you are again editing the Pine Cone! And that it has returned to its delightful and charming self.

I have been spending several months of each year in Carmel writing assigned books for young people. While I have had to be away from there and at home, the Pine Cone has brought the atmosphere of the village I love so well right to my very door. I should say it did this before you relinquished the helm. Then it became something I did not at all recognize.

Last week when the newspaper arrived I was again enchanted with its content. I did not realize till I read the box on the front page why this was so. How good it is to see something loved wearing dear and familiar clothing!

Sincerely,
Nicolete Meredith (Stack)

Dear Madam:

Current accelerated agitation to recognize Red China stimulates recollection of what many already forget—the theft of Tibet and the Dalai Lama expelled from his religion's "Vatican," and now in exile.

Even a half-century ago, Lhasa was still much of a "terra incognito." A friend of our family, an American skilled in eye diseases, was permitted residence there. Thus an invitation to us—then en route to Hindustan, to take "the Trail into Tibet."

At the Silliguri crossing of the Ganges, we that evening tolerantly discussed comparative religions with a high-caste Brahmin. He suggested we join him before daybreak to hear him sing the ancient Vedic "Hymn of the Dawn." Those verses to the Dawn Goddess "clad in robes of saffron" are a prayer for much, including "Give us of Thy treasures, but, above all, give us HEROES."

Three thousand years ago, men thus already knew the paucity of leadership. 1890-1940 saw U.S.A.'s tragically dysgenic birth rate. Our leaders often had two, one, even no children. Meantime social inadequates bred.

Sincerely,
C. M. Goethe

Dear Madam;

If I may be presumptuous enough to voice the sentiments of all Carmel merchants, I should like to take this opportunity of commending, on their behalf, Chief Klaumann and the entire police organization of this community for the excellent manner in which the recent armed holdup in Carmel was culminated.

It continues to be a proven fact that, while the Carmel Police Department may be few in number, their efficiency is tops. Many of us are amazed as to how these crime solutions are attained, but when a member of the force like Edd Fischer (in this case) with a wife and family, exposes himself to bodily harm and possible death, in response to an all-out alert, whom of us could ask for more.

Sincerely,
Roland O. Patitz

Dear Mrs. Lloyd,

You will not remember me, though I have met you at various times in the 10 years that we have been living here since my retirement from the University of the Pacific. But my wife and I want you and Mr. Cook, and the staff, to know that we are glad that you are again in the Pine Cone office. We had been subscribers even before we moved here, but a few months ago we had had enough and cancelled our subscription.

Our present plans may not be entirely to your liking, but I have always hated to refuse to buy of the youngsters at the post office, and instead of sending you a subscription, we are now promising you that we will buy a copy each week. And read it. And enjoy it.

For many years the Pine Cone was interested in the Greek classes that I have had here. I would like to have the public know that I am starting a three-times-a-week class for the summer in beginning Greek, and also I have a class which is about to begin reading Homer. Perhaps there are some who feel capable and desirous of joining that class. I have often spoken of his poems as the Idiot and Oddity, but of course I meant the Iliad and the Odyssey.

Very cordially,
Fred L. Farley

Ed. Note: What ever made you think I would not remember you, Dr. Farley? I most surely do . . . and with pleasure. Are you still writing poetry as well as planning to resume your classes in Greek. —M.L.

Homes And Studios Will Be Open For Fourth A.F.A. Tour

Participants in the Artists' Studio Open House on July 18, sponsored by the American Federation of Arts, will have a chance to visit some of this area's most interesting private homes and studios which are rarely opened to the public.

This year is the fourth that the event has been held. Outstanding local artists will be present at each tour point to demonstrate and discuss their work from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The nine areas to be visited will be concentrated south of Carmel Mission Basilica, including Carmel Highlands. A focal spot will be the Tevis residence just south of the Mission. Geza St. Galy will join Lee Tevis in demonstrating the art of ceramics and mosaics, and it is here that refreshments will be served to tour participants.

Another high point of the day will be a visit to the Stuyvesant Fish Ranch overlooking the mouth of Carmel Valley and with a sweeping view of the ocean. There visitors will see the floral arrangements of expert Virginia Neilson. They will also sample the wild boar meat which is a product of the ranch recently introduced into the commercial market.

Internationally-famed photographer Ansel Adams will open his coastland studio, as will artists Joe Feuerborn, Ephraim Doner, Joan Schwartz, Jessica Quigley, Charles Thomas, Ruth Allan Jordan, and enamelist, Ruth Buol. Jewelry designed by the latter artist will be shown by models wearing fashions from a Carmel shop.

Acting as joint chairman for the open house tour are Mrs. Catherine Pierce and Mrs. Harry Lusignan.

Committee members are Mrs. William Durney, assistant chairman; Mrs. Virginia Stanton, general consultant; Mrs. Barbara Tripp, posters; Richard Dunn, poster distribution; Mrs. Arthur Devlin, transportation; and Mrs. Philip H. Smith, publicity. Sponsors for the event are Mr. and Mrs. T. Jack Foster, Mrs. Marie Davies, Mrs. Catherine Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse and Leonard Heller.

Tickets are now available at the American Federation of Arts headquarters at Lincoln and Ocean in Carmel. They will also be available on the day of the event at each residence and studio included in the tour.

In the Church of the Wayfarer on Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m., Janet Marie Fehring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted T. Fehring, was married to Jerry Elmer Berg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer O. Berg of Salem, Oregon. The nuptials were performed by Dr. Ronald Menmuir assisted by Douglas Gregg who is studying for the ministry. As the bride and her attendants reached the altar the best man, James Stewart of San Jose, read excerpts from Kahlil Gibran's "The Prophet."

Janet was given in marriage by her father and mother. Her formal bridal gown was of white taffeta and Italian embroidered lace. The streamers of a huge bustle bow of lace extended into a short train. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion net was crowned by a wreath of fresh orange blossoms.

Janet's attendants, Mrs. Fred Burbank, Mrs. Dennis Elliott and Mrs. Thomas Glover, wore frocks of white brocade fashioned with fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts, flower wreaths in their hair and carried bouquets of yellow daisies.

Ushers, college friends of the bridegroom, were Asa Akiuaka of Honolulu; James Hormel, who flew from Chicago for the wedding; and Ronald Martino of San Jose.

The bride chose the music of Bach and Handel rather than conventional wedding marches.

The wedding reception at La Playa Hotel was attended by many Carmelites who have known Janet from early childhood, as well as out of town friends of both families.

The mother of the bride chose to wear an embroidered sheath of silver-beech green with matching gloves, and a matching feather halo hat. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Berg were here from Salem, Oregon for their son's wedding. Mrs. Berg was clad in a designer suit of champagne-toned imported lace. Her tiny hat was of multi-color flowers and her corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Following the cutting of the four-tiered wedding cake, Mrs. Jerry Elmer Berg changed to her travel ensemble of oatmeal color light weight wool with a beaver collar. The couple will spend their honeymoon in a cabin in the Santa Cruz mountains.

They will return to Palo Alto where Jerry will complete bar examination work and Janet will work toward receiving teaching credentials.

In September they will leave for Zomba, Nyasaland, Africa, where Jerry will commence his Maxwell Foundation assignment as legal advisor to the prime minister of Nyasaland.

Janet is a graduate of Sunset School, Carmel High School and Stanford University. Jerry obtained his B.A. at Stanford in '59 and his law degree earlier this month.

Storybook Romance

A Carmel romance that had its beginning over half a century ago reached a story book climax last Friday when Miss Ruth Ann Tillman of Portland, Oregon, and Frank J. Anderson of Los Angeles were joined in matrimony by the Reverend Peter Farmer in All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Both bride and groom are senior citizens, proud that they have passed their 70th birthdays. When Frank first proposed to Ruth 50 odd years ago in Ohio where she was teaching art, he was refused. "Not because I didn't love him," Ruth told, "but because I had family responsibilities, my mother needed my care and companionship.

Ruth went on with her art studies and teaching. She attended Pratt Institute in New York and came often to Carmel for extended stays.

Frank married, became a father and eventually a grandfather. His wife died some time ago.

This spring when Ruth came to Carmel, relatives notified Frank who had never forgotten the sweetheart of his youth. He took the first plane out of Los Angeles . . . He proposed all over again and the day he picked was propitious, it was Ruth's birthday.

Last Friday was Frank's birthday as well as his wedding day and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson spent their honeymoon at Highlands Inn, for them both a long treasured spot.

A mining engineer and vice president of his company in Los Angeles, Mr. Anderson and his bride will be at home in southern California.

Ronnie Faia is home again, having completed his freshman year at his older brother's alma mater. Young Tommie, who will be a sophomore at Oregon State in September is expected to arrive from the north this weekend. All above mentioned Faia men are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. John Faia, Jr.

Kiwanis News

Wig maker Ronald Boninconti, owner of the Peninsula's only wig shop, in Carmel's Lincoln Lane, was sponsored by Carmel Kiwanis senior member, Fred Meech, for membership in the organization at Thursday's luncheon meeting in Pine Inn.

Chuck Dawson announced that the Kiwanis annual scholarship was awarded to Carmel High School graduate, '64, Alma Wilmot. Alma plans to attend California State Polytechnic College in the autumn.

Climaxing the meeting was a demonstration program given by Charles Kresky of the Graham Music Company on the Hammond Spinet Organ which he had transported from the shop. Mr. Kresky's repertoire included many old favorites and surprising technique. "Star Dust" played as a one finger melody won rounds of applause, while "Aloha Oe" with full orchestra effects, drew a standing ovation.

Elstob Family Reunion

Mrs. Michael Sherman (Lucy Elstob) arrived last night with her two children, Laura and Michael Karl, from Kirkwood, Missouri, to spend the summer with her parents, the Fred Elstobs. Lucy went through Sunset School (with two years out for school in England) and graduated from Carmel High School, Class of '55. The young Shermans lived in the married quarters on Cornell University campus for four years while Michael was working for his doctorate in international labor relations. Michael is now executive assistant to the general manager of the Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis. He hopes to arrive in Carmel for a brief vacation before the summer ends.

Lucy and the children were met at the San Francisco International Airport, where she had a change of planes, by her sister Mary (Mrs. Terry Holland) also a Sunset, C.H.S. graduate, Class of '59, now living in Menlo Park. Mary and her two babies, Deborah and Jennifer, will spend the month of July here, with Terry coming down for weekends. So, the tiny Elstob home at San Antonio and Ocean will be crammed with the fun and excitement of three generations "getting together."

New Gallery Features Free Form Sculpture

Carmel has become the home of two internationally known sculptors, Malcolm Moran and Donald Buby, who have established their studio-workshop on the west side of San Carlos street, between Fifth and Sixth, where they are daily engaged in creating original sculpture forms out of various metals and other media.

Their fascinating new sculpture has been shown in the leading museums and galleries throughout the nation. Some of their commissions include works at the world-famous Northland Center, the Ford Rotunda, and the General Motors Technical Center.

Mr. Moran was director of art for the Century 21 World's Fair, and Mr. Buby was a leading designer for the Chrysler Corporation. Their sculptures are limited editions, no two being exactly alike, varying because of the artists' spontaneity of design and execution.

They welcome visitors, not only to view their completed works, but also to observe the work in progress. Nothing else is quite like what they do, their skills being a distinct contribution to Carmel's fame as an art center.

CALIFORNIA STATE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Qualifying rounds of the California Amateur Golf Championship will be held at Pebble Beach and Cypress Point clubs on Monday and Tuesday. Match play will begin Wednesday at Pebble Beach. Finals will take place on June 28 at Pebble Beach.

Dr. Paul E. Travis of Downey will defend his title against former state champions John Richardson, Verne Collison, Eli Bariteau, Ernest O. Pieper Jr., and Bruce McCormick.

Entrants from Carmel will be J. J. Goggin, Dick McClean and Richard H. Roberts.

Planners Deny Church Request

Sitting as a board of adjustments yesterday, Carmel planning commissioners denied the International Association of Religious Science Churches a use permit to use a building in the residence zone at Third and Junipero for a headquarters office. A city ordinance prohibits offices in the residence district.

The design for a shop and office development at the southwest corner of Junipero and Fourth, presented by J. O. Handley, was rejected on the grounds that it had almost unbroken frontage, permitted only strip landscaping, also the wall overhang did not allow planting of tall growth to soften the frontage or character of the structure. Use permits were approved for the height of the development; denied for the length; approved for a basement garage.

New plans were considered for the Jack Miller theatre and shop complex at San Carlos and Eighth. Shown yesterday were spaces for 20 cars under the theatre. Recently the building was required, under an interim ordinance, to have nine parking spaces. By the purchase of an adjoining lot, the developer proposes to provide the parking required.

Grand Canyon Trip

Heralded by trumpets, Nancy Macdonald Lofton walked down the aisle of All Saints' Episcopal Church on the arm of her father, Richard Lofton, on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock to be joined in matrimony with Edward Kay-Mars Faridany. The Reverend Peter Farmer performed the marriage ceremony which was followed by a communion service celebrated by the Reverend David Hill.

White flowers and huckleberry greens decorated the candlelit altar below the stained glass sanctuary window. Similar flowers in two tall standard vases placed at the chancel rail framed the wedding party. Bach's choral, "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring," was played as guests assembled and Purcell's "Trumpet Tune in D" preceded the bride's entrance.

She wore an ivory peau de soie gown with a long-sleeved Empire bodice. Chantilly lace overlaid the floor-length skirt and fell in soft folds from the yoke of the gown to form a chapel train. A lace and pearl-trimmed coronet held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses, gypsophilia and stock.

Her younger sister, Melissa, was her maid of honor. Bridesmaids were a cousin, Marian Bagnal of Winston-Salem, North Carolina; the bridegroom's sister, Jennifer Faridany of London, England; Francesca and Nancy Farr of Carmel; Allison Miller and Tasha Doner of Carmel Highlands; and Pamela Whitworth of Pebble Beach. Molly Williams and Janie Miller, both of Carmel Highlands, were flowergirls.

The older attendants were clad alike in long moss green faille Empire dresses, matching shoes and white kid gloves. The flower girls' similar frocks were a deep pink. All had bouquets of pink roses, cornflowers, gypsophilia and daisies, and wore a single pink rose in their hair.

Frank Shields of New York was the bridegroom's best man and ushers were Gilbert Cass of Boston, Massachusetts; Lawrence Crapo of Porterville; Thomas Palmer and Gary Rogers of Los Angeles; Robert Brodie of Toronto, Canada; and Kent Fleming of Atherton.

Mrs. Lofton witnessed her daughter's wedding in a pistachio green silk dress and coat, bone chiffon hat and accessories, and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. P. H. Faridany, who came from England for her son's wedding, attended the ceremony in a navy blue silk dress, printed chiffon coat, navy blue hat and accessories. Her flowers were mauve orchids.

The reception following the wedding was held in the home and garden of the bride's parents on Hatton Fields Mesa. Gardenias surrounded the three-tiered wedding cake on the bride's table.

After their health had been drunk in champagne, Edward and Nancy left to spend the summer motoring from France to Iran. They will visit Edward's father in Teheran and tour the Near East before returning to the United States in the fall. Until Edward completes post-graduate study at Harvard University, they will live in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Nancy attended Carmel schools before entering St. John's College, Annapolis. She completed her college education at the University of California and this year has been doing post-graduate work at Boston University.

Her husband is graduate of the University of California, also studied at Malvern College in England.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bride's godfather, Stuart Rabb, Lake Bluff, Illinois; her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Bagnal, Winston-Salem, North Carolina; Mrs. David Jones, Austin, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Knudsen, Happy Valley; Mr. and Mrs. George Lenzowski, Berkeley; Dr. and Mrs. Donald Fleming, Atherton; and Dr. and Mrs. Larry Berkoben, Tracy; Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis, Menlo Park; and Mr and Mrs. S.F.B Morse III, Sunset Palisades, also Dr. and Mrs. Francis Herrick, Oakland, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibbon, Aptos.

"I Remember Those Horses!"

Dr. James Hopper, professor of medicine at the University of California medical school in San Francisco, last Friday visited his sister, Mrs. Herb Vial, and childhood friends in Carmel. He saw a copy of last week's Pine Cone showing his father, the late James Hopper, in a group of writers pictured on the front page. "I remember those horses," he said, "and most of all I liked Bech's (Fred Bechdolt)."

Dr. Hopper spent the rest of the weekend at a medical school conference at Asilomar. Purpose of the meetings was to discuss how to adapt the school to the demands of ever-increasing enrollment.

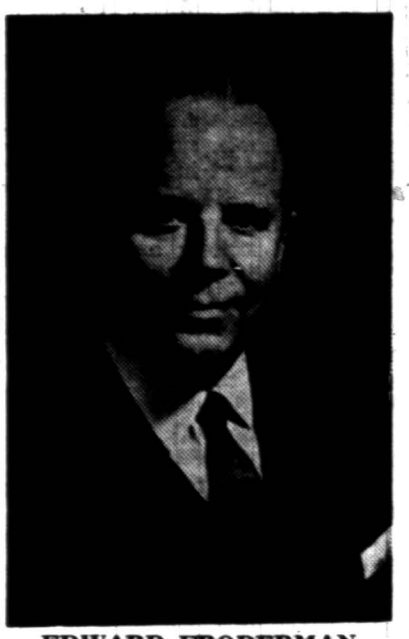
Salgo Announces Bach Festival Programs And Solo Performers

In Carmel to conduct a special rehearsal of the Carmel Chorus of the 27th Annual Carmel Bach Festival, Director-Conductor Sandor Salgo has released the program as it will be presented through ten days and evenings next month.

The compilation of the concerts, symposiums, chamber music and lectures, plus the dramatic presentation at the Carmel Mission Basilica, has been the monumental work of one year. The creation of each annual festival commences, literally, on the day the preceding festival ends.



With his world-wide knowledge and contact with the greats of the operatic and concert stage, vocalists and instrumentalists, Salgo will bring to Carmel this year many new artists as well as long time favorites without whom the Festival would lose its unique appeal to the hundreds of patrons who come year after year to Carmel.

This year's festival starts on July 17. The opening program is titled "Bach and 'Baroque' Mozart." Soloists in Bach's "Cantata No. 78" will be Norma Jean Hodges, Pauline Law, Patrick Daugherty and Orville White. In the "Brandenburg Concerto No. 4," Stanley Plummer will be the violin soloist and Roberta and Colin Sterne will play recorders. The original version of Mozart's "Great Mass in C Minor" will conclude the first program. Soloists in this will be Carole Bogard, Carolyn Stanford, Patrick Daugherty and Orville White.

"A Leipzig Fair in the 18th Century" is the title of the July 18 concert. Instrumental soloists in music by Vivaldi, Teleman and Haydn will be Stanley Plummer, Louise DiTullio and Joseph Schuster. In Bach's "The Quarrel between Phoebus and Pan," solo singers will be Norman D. Farrow, Eugene Jones, Evelyn Sachs, Richard Kramer and James Schwabacher.

The July 19 performance will be the presentation of Bach's B Minor Mass. Soloists will be Carole Bogard, Evelyn Sachs, Carolyn Stanford, James Schwabacher, Norman Farrow and Archie Drake.

On July 20, the "Bach and 'Classic' Mozart" concert will include two concerti from Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons" with Eudice Shapiro as violin soloist. Roy Bogas will be the pianist for Mozart's "Concerto for Piano, K466 in D Minor." Soloists Bogard, Daugherty and Drake will sing in Bach's "Cantata No. 21."

Purcell's "Sonata for Trumpet and Strings" will be given with Edward Haug as soloist on July 21, also Bach's "Partita for Solo Violin No. 2" with soloist Eudice Shapiro. Norman Farrow will be the soloist for Bach's "Cantata No. 82" and Haydn's "Symphony No. 97 in C Major" will close the program.

On July 22 in the morning a concert in commemoration of the Shakespeare quadricentennial will be given at Carmel Mission Basilica. "The Great Service" by William Byrd and "Dettingen Te Deum" by Handel will be performed.

The following evening, July 23, L'Allegro ed il Penseroso," a dramatic ode by Handel will be presented. Soloists will be Carole Bogard, Diane Leoncavallo, Carolyn Stanford, Pauline Law, Evelyn Sachs, Richard Kramer and Archie Drake.

The previous Friday's performance (July 17) will be given on July 24. The July 18 program will be repeated on July 25 and the festival will end with another performance of the B. Minor Mass on July 27.

All the above concerts, except that at the Mission, will be at Sunset School auditorium, 8:30 p.m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The first chapter of Genesis—coupled with explanatory passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy—will form the nucleus of the Christian Science Bible Lesson this Sunday entitled "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

The Golden Text is from Psalms (33:6): "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth." And from Science and Health: "All that is made is the work of God, and all is good" (p. 521).

EDWARD FRODERMAN

Christian Scientists Meet In Boston

A call to use "spiritual power" to help solve the world's "thorny problems of human relations and race inequalities" greeted Christian Scientists at their annual meeting at The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, last week.

The election of Edward Froderman as the new president of the church for the coming year was announced. He is a former vice-president of a Chicago bank, who resigned in 1949 to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing. He moved to Boston in 1956 to serve as manager of the church's department of branches and practitioners. In 1961, he was appointed as a trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society, a position he still holds.

The new church president is a native of Bad-Salzuflen, Germany. He emigrated to the United States as a teen-ager. Living with relatives in Chicago, Mr. Froderman soon became interested in Christian Science and enrolled in the Sunday School. He went on to become First Reader and board chairman at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chicago.

Revived religious stirrings in Eastern Europe were reported to the meeting by the Clerk, Gordon V. Comer.

Closed-circuit television was used for the first time at the meeting, which annually draws an attendance of about 7,000 members, accommodated in four different auditoriums.

Establishment of a new Christian Science Society in Nigeria during the past year brought to 54 the number of countries where branches of the church are located, it was noted. New cards and folders are being published for the first time in Hungarian, as well as Afrikaans, Arabic, and Hebrew. A new Greek edition of the church's periodical, "The Herald of Christian Science," was also announced.

The names of three new appointees to the 29-member Board of Lectureship were also announced during the day: Martin N. Heafer of Houston, Texas; Thomas O. Poyser of Boston, Massachusetts; and Harry S. Smith of Atlanta, Georgia.

Kenneth S. Walker, prominent California banker, has been appointed vice president and a member of the board of directors of the Security National Bank of Monterey County.

Kenneth Walker New Vice President Of Security Bank

Kenneth S. Walker, San Diego banker and son-in-law of Samuel F. B. Morse of Pebble Beach, has been named vice president and a member of the board of directors of the Security National Bank of Monterey County it has been announced by William A. Burkett, president.

He will have an office in the bank's Carmel branch beginning July 1, Mr. Burkett said, until the bank's Monterey main office is completed next year.

Mr. Walker, 58, has been vice president and trust officer in charge of the trust department of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of San Diego for the past 14 years. A graduate of Harvard, his banking career began in the Paris office of the Central Hanover Bank of New York. He then served in their London office and was vice president and trust officer of the Central Hanover Bank's Fifth Avenue Plaza branch for 12 years.

A lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Corps in the Pacific theater during World War II, Mr. Walker is a member of the Military Order of World Wars, the Air Force Association, American Legion, Reserve Officers Association and the La Jolla Rotary Club.

He has been residing with his wife, Nancy Morse Walker, at Rancho Santa Fe. They have moved to Carmel Valley and are building their home on the S.F.B. Morse River Ranch property.

Officials and Press Invited to Preview New Golf Club

The board of directors of the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club are giving an invitational preview this afternoon for officials of the Northern and Southern California Golf Associations, also the California State Association officials visiting here for this week's tournament. Sports writers and reporters here to report the tournament, as well as local news and feature writers have also been invited to attend today's preview.

Edgar Haber, president and developer of the new club, and his fellow board members will take the guests on a tour of the grounds and the completed golf course.

"Members will be invited to bring their clubs and go into action around August 1," Mr. Haber said. "The club house will have its official opening also on August 1.

Club memberships are mounting daily. Limited to 400, they are available to individuals or families of the area. Half of the memberships (200) are reserved for residents of the club. A number of homes on the grounds are under construction in the superb setting of the valley with the surrounding Santa Lucia mountains.

Also available are 150 social memberships, subject to the director's approval, for non-golfers who will enjoy the privileges of the club house hospitality.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thorburg, Librarian

All new books this week are non-fiction, all are good, some are terrific. You can ask no more than that. Or can you? Some people never read non-fiction, so this week they must browse through the McNaughton collection.

Those of us who belong to a poodle can really enjoy Every Night, Josephine, by Jaqueline Susann. This book has been circulating for a couple of weeks, without mention in this column. All of us will read the book with reservations, all of us with poodles, that is.

A Time for Action by President Johnson is composed of his speeches and writings from 1953 to his first State of the Union Message in 1964. There are a few photographs or illustrations. In an election year, all such writing becomes important.

The Honored Society by Norman Lewis is the inside story of the Mafia. It seems that the Mafia goes back to the middle ages. The author was on Sicily during the late war and had access to court files on the Mafia cases. This Honored Society has almost completely depopulated some towns through its vendetta system. The book is illustrated by 16 photographs, one of which shows a town in which 153 Mafia murders took place between 1944 and 1948. Needless to say the town is almost deserted. With such an organization in power who needs birth control? Much of the material in the book appeared first in the New Yorker.

Earl Wilson's New York is a guide to the city for fairgoers who want to see something more than the fair. There is no index but the table of contents will do until something better comes along because it's really pretty good. There is a New York dictionary for those who have trouble understanding New Yorkese and there are many tips to help you know what you may and may not do. And what you certainly should not do! This is good reading, so read it before you go and leave it here for the next fellow.

I Do Not Die is the title of a book by Father Roger Troifontaines, and is the beginning of a quotation from Theresa of Lisieux who said "I do not die, I enter into Life." This is a scholarly discussion of life and death from the Catholic standpoint, but it should be helpful to non-Catholics also.

Albert Einstein: Theoretical Physicist is a short biography by Aylesa Forsee, which contains much about relativity and many diagrams for clarity, the whole thing being done with warmth and feeling.

Marshall Field, III, is by Stephen Becker and is a large and entertaining account of the famous family of Chicago people who founded the store and the various periodicals which they still publish, and more especially of the third man to be named Marshall Field. Illustrations are photographs, of course.

After the Cossacks Burned Down the "Y" sounds like a crazy-man-crazy title but that is the title of Eddy Gilmore's new book. It is an account of his return to Russia with his Russian wife, Tamara, and all that happened to them while there. You remember he wrote Me and My Russian Wife and also the novel Troika.

The shooting is all over now, so come in for books and a reasonable amount of quiet in which to read. Everything happens in a library!

The sun shone brightly on Saturday for the wedding of Kaye Williams and David Dick at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church in Carmel Valley.

Kaye, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elliott of San Diego, was attended by Judy Sumida. David's best man was Larry Beal. The entire color theme of the wedding, reception and a buffet supper was blue and white, reflecting the white of Kaye's lace-accented ballerina gown and Judy's aquamarine dress.

After the ceremony, at which Reverend James Voytko officiated, a champagne reception was held at Robles del Rio Lodge.

On Sunday, Kaye and David, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dick of Carmel Valley, flew south to Long Beach with Dave's father in his plane and then continued to Santa Catalina for their honeymoon. Both have to be back at classes tomorrow at California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo, where they will be living until they finish school. In the Fall, they plan a trip to the East Coast and the New York World's Fair.

Kaye attended Carmel High School for two years then completed her high school education in San Diego. While she was here she met David. He is a graduate of Carmel High and attended Monterey Peninsula College.

A buffet supper was served at the Richard Dick home in the Valley after the reception for 50 out of town guests and relatives.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elliot, Kaye's parents from San Diego; also Mrs. John Reinertson and Matthew P. Dick, both of Riverside, Illinois, who are Dave's maternal grandmother and paternal grandfather. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kellner and Mrs. Nettie Elliott, Kaye's grandparents; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schoenke and their children; James Kellner; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bugbee; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grow and their children; Mrs. Margaret Rockford; John Williams and Kenny Morrison, Kaye's brothers; and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Beal.

The SUR COAST

By Elizabeth Fuller Jones

Joan Baez to Sing

The New Folk Music is the title of a week-end seminar to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Big Sur Hot Springs Lodge. Leading musicians and students of folk music will gather at the lodge to perform and to discuss their work during the first meeting of its kind in the West. Leaders in this field of music, such as Dr. Roger Abrahams of the University of Texas Folklore Department, will be present to talk about the scholarly aspects of the new folk music. Others taking part will be Richard Farina, writer of folk music, singer and musician who plays the dulcimer. The composer of "The Little Boxes" and many other currently popular folk songs, Malvina Reynolds of Berkeley, will be an active participant, also Mark Spoelstra, and the one who has charge of arranging the seminar, Nancy Carlen, musician in residence at the Hot Springs Lodge.

Sunday at 2:30 p.m., a new and old folk music concert will be given outdoors. The public is invited and tickets will be on sale on the day of the concert.

Folksinger Joan Baez, who has just completed a nation-wide concert tour and the making of several new albums, Janet Smith, who plays the guitar and the autoharp, and dancer, guitarist, Mimi Farina, as well as those taking part in the seminar, will be present to entertain the expected 500 people who will attend.

Teachers' Vacation Plans

Teachers at the Captain Cooper Elementary School, Big Sur, will spend their vacations in summer school, in travel and in recreation. Mrs. Rowena Kelley, principal and teacher of the first and second grades, enrolls in Hartnell College, Salinas, Monday, in an English language course. Daughters Rowena and Dorothy, junior high and high school students in Carmel, will attend summer classes offered by the Carmel Unified School District. Following the six weeks of study, on August 21 Mrs. Kelly and her daughters will be in Tremonton, Utah, north of Salt Lake, to take part in a three-day family reunion. The reunion occurs every five years when Mrs. Kelley's 12 brothers and sisters and their families gather in their home town, with their father, Mr. Frank L. Davis, for this much looked forward to occasion. At the reunion in 1959 there were 97 direct descendants of Mr. Davis present. This large family get-together began during World War II years when it was held annually. Now it has reached such proportions, this year there will be over one hundred present, that a Girl Scout camp has been rented for the long weekend where relatives from California, Utah, Oregon and Idaho will gather for the traditional giant "cook-out" and a great volley ball and soft ball game in which the entire family takes part.

Teacher of the third and fourth grades at the Captain Cooper School, George Selvig, will enjoy Big Sur and environs and take his family on several short boating trips during the summer months. Mrs. Selvig, who has taught a ballet class at the Grange Hall for little girls of the Big Sur area during the past year, has just returned from a trip to her native land, Denmark, where she attended the Ballet Festival in Copenhagen. Mrs. Selvig is a former member of the Royal Danish Ballet and made many appearances with that company when they performed in cities in Denmark and in Paris and Rome.

Fifth and sixth grade teacher, Lynn Cadwell, will attend summer school at the University of California at Santa Barbara where he will take part in a special reading seminar. Mrs. Cadwell will enroll in art classes at the university and the Cadwells' children will be members of a summer session program provided at the university. Mr. and Mrs. Cadwell's parents live in Santa Barbara and in Carpenteria, so they will combine their summer studies with a family reunion.

Musical Evening

Artists Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bradford, of Partington Ridge, held a musical evening at their home last Friday which was held under the direction of the Esalen Institute of Big Sur Hot Springs. Guest artists were flutist Owen James and pianist Marilyn Thompson. Miss Thompson is a 1964 Fulbright winner and a graduate of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music. Mr. James is a member of the well-known James Trio and the Verse Music Quartet. The concert included the works of Bach, Haydn, Hindemith and Roussel.

Nowadays lighting costs you less because your PG&E rates have gone down

Nearly everything has gone up in price these days . . . except your PG&E rates. They have gone down lately. As a matter of fact, the typical PG&E household customer pays less today than 30 years ago for the same amount of gas and electricity. But count the things around your home that gas and electricity are doing for you and your family today. You are using three times as much as families did 30 years ago. So, though the unit price is lower, your bill is bigger. Any way you look at it, you live better for less because PG&E service is a bigger bargain than ever.

prior to their fixed maturity date or dates at the principal amount thereof and accrued interest thereon to date of redemption, together with a premium of ¼ of 1% of such principal amount for each whole twelve months' period and for any fraction of a twelve-month period from the date fixed for redemption to the fixed maturity date of the bonds so called for redemption.

PAYMENT:

Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the City Treasurer, Carmel-by-the-Sea, Monterey County, California, or at the respective offices of the paying agents of the City for said bonds in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, or in the City of New York, State of New York, or in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois, at the option of the holder.

EXECUTION AND REGISTRATION:

Coupon bonds will be issued by said City. Said bonds will be executed by the manual signature of at least one official authorized to execute the bonds. Said bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE:

Said bonds are authorized by vote of two-thirds of the qualified voters voting at a special municipal bond election for the purpose of authorizing bonds for public improvements for the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

SECURITY:

Said bonds are general obligations of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and said City has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said City subject to taxation by said City (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates) without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS:

In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service, or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may, at his option, prior to the tender of said bonds by the City, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds and in such case the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION:

The legal opinion of Messrs. Orrick, Dahlquist, Herrington & Sutcliffe, of San Francisco, California, approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge. A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed, will be printed on each bond without charge to the successful bidder.

TERMS OF SALE

Highest Bid:

The bonds will be awarded to the highest bidder, considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the City would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to their respective maturity dates at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid, and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the City. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed between the dates aforesaid on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the City.

Right of Rejection:

The City Council reserves the right, in its discretion, to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

Prompt Award:

The City Council will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals unless such time of award is waived by the successful bidder. Prompt notice of the award will be given to the successful bidder.

Prompt Delivery:

Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the San Francisco Main Office of Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, 300 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, California, as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the date of sale thereof, but not prior to the date of the bonds. The successful bidder will be given 7 days advance notice of the time fixed for the delivery of the bonds.

Right of Cancellation:

The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the City shall fail to execute the bonds and tender the same for delivery within sixty (60) days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

Form of Bid:

All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Each bid, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, and endorsed "Proposal for City of Carmel-by-the-Sea 1964 Municipal Improvement Bonds."

Bid Check:

With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $5,000 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea to secure the City from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the City on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the City. Checks of all bidders (except the successful bidder) will be returned by the City by mail promptly following the sale date above specified. No interest will be paid upon the deposit made by the successful bidder.

Official Statement:

The City has prepared an Official Statement relating to the bonds, copies of which will be furnished upon request to the City Clerk or to Stone & Youngberg, Russ Building, San Francisco, California, the City's financial consultants.

There is no litigation pending concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of the City or the title of the officers thereof to their respective offices, and the City will furnish to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregong as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

ON and OFF the AVENUES

BY CAROLYN ELSTOB

What with the golf and tennis tournaments bringing throngs of ladies that putt and ladies that like to watch putting, to these parts . . . and terrifically romantic weddings winning headlines, bigger and blacker than even the warring presidential hopefuls — I'm a bit distraught. Whether to live the utterly casual outdoor life . . . go artful and intellectual . . . or delve headfirst into a romantic cloud . . . and that sounds involved!

As I'll just never learn to putt or drive with brilliant results, I've been going in for tennis. I'm told I'm not too good at the racquet. But! In The MARK FENWICK SHOP, Carmel Plaza you know, I found a magnificent collection of tennis dresses,—I should say ensembles, they all have their matching shorts. There's a semi-fitted princess model in arnel that, quite severe, does marvelous things for the figger. Another has flat pearl buttons right down the front from neck to hem — you may choose round or V necklines, flared, pleated or straight skirt models. AND! The "Sissy" models in eyelet embroidery or embroidered in fine wale pique! Get on the court in one of these rigs and you'll have courtin' cousins asking for love games!

If you are too darn lazy to really play games take a look at Courtney Brunn's selections of sun-time sheaths and shifts . . . The Villager in clay color polyester and cotton (half and half), was inspired by a kangaroo! Sure, it has a pouch, right center front, a bit below the waistline, in it is, no, not what you suspect but a triangle headscarf! From Yankee Pedlar there's a wizard shift, Empire effect, navy and fireman red with white polka dots. Crazy Horse (uh huh, that's the designer) has done a grand collection of shifts in outer-fringe colors, decorated with great flower appliques. And don't miss the Tanner originals. Go in to MARK FENWICKS—you'll have a spectacular treatment, seeing what's going on in the top echelon fashion furor. The MARK FENWICK SHOP, CARMEL PLAZA.

P.S. I'm literally tearing my hair because I just haven't had a chance to see the new MARK FENWICK emporium in the Stevens Creek Plaza in Santa Clara! I've heard terrific reports of its atmosphere. You'll find the same sort of sophisticated dash . . . country clothes for ladies, to say it nicely . . . in that highly individual MARK FENWICK setting. From Carmel, about 1½ hours drive, along scenic Hiway 17. Why not?

Here in Carmel one is always running in to visiting name droppers. Heaven help me, they have, hundreds of them, "lunched with John Steinbeck!" Just yesterday I visited the STUDIO ART GALLERY of DANNY GARCIA and the brilliant young painter (he was born in Monterey, April 13, 1929) told me, quite casually that he was a friend of Steinbeck's "Doc" — Ed Ricketts of Cannery Row. Danny wasn't dropping names! He actually worked in Doc Rickett's Cannery Row lab for five years.

In the soaring sea gulls, the tumultuous sea, even in the clanking machinery of the sardine canneries Danny Garcia saw color and form, light and shadow with the special eyes that God bestows upon genius. He started painting as a child. He had ten years of formal training, running the gamut from realism to abstract impressions. Today, the result of under-sea observation as a skin diver, he has a vertical color-flow technique of his own. The resulting canvases are inexpressibly beautiful and arresting. Visit the DANNY GARCIA STUDIO GALLERY. You will see great paintings, you'll have a new name to drop in art circles. I predict fame for Monterey's artist Danny Garcia. The GALLERY is on Sixth, near Dolores, above Parsons of Carmel.

Casual and active sports clothes are the utter,—under the sun. And art Carmel is world renowned.

BUT—as the sun touches the horizon (with a hiss I'm told) Go elegant. Get gussied up in your loveliest! You are going to dine, not just eat, mind you, in our newest and most dramatically beautiful restaurant for gourmets—THE MARQUIS. In the Louis XIV manner, the decor is superb! The deep pile carpeting that makes ladies float rather than plod along, is an amazing sapphire and turquoise pattern. Brushed gold chandeliers sparkle with crystal finials; velvet upholstered chairs are in period character. All this you feel as well as see — But — when you come to reading the mamomth golden menu! Your choice of food fit for the gods is tantalizing. Walter Becker and Werner Kalmus high on the lists of the world's great chefs and restaurateurs, offer you a choice of hors d'ouvre (hot or cold); potages; fish, entrees and desserts, all individually prepared in the tradition of France's greats. If you just haven't gotten as far as the Tour d'Argent in Paris,—don't fret . . . For superb dining, for entertaining your dearest and most critical friends, for a gala evening — (Of course the wine cellar is unrivalled in these parts, —and Mr. Becker presents wine and champagne cocktails that are, I almost said intoxicating—but you know what I mean, they are the perfect prologue to the gourmet viands ahead. Open daily except Sunday for dinner only, 6 to 9:30 o'clock. Reservations and parties encouraged. THE MARQUIS GOURMET RESTAURANT, San Carlos and Fourth, Carmel.

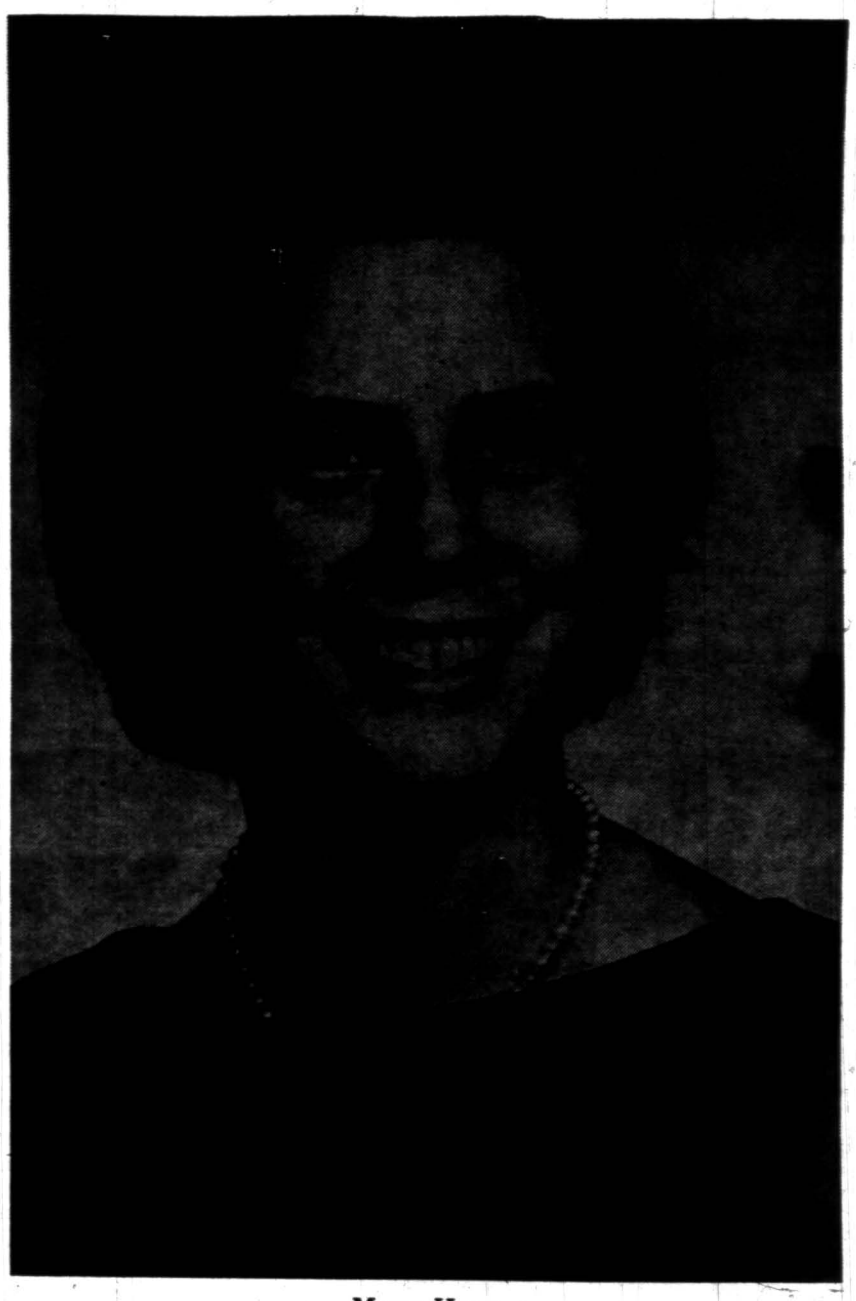
Wins Scholarship

Al Nishimura of the Carmel High School Class of 1964 has been awarded a college scholarship by the Monterey Peninsula Japanese-American Citizens League. Members hope to continue the awarding of scholarships each year. This year is the first time the awards have been made to Peninsula high school graduates.



Mary Hurn

When she brought in her final "Padre Patter" column, the Pine Cone's reporter for the past school year, Carmel High School senior Mary Hurn, told us that she and her family are leaving Carmel after two years' residence here.

Mary's father is Comdr. Eugene W. Hurn, USN, comptroller at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey. Having completed 20 years of service, the Commander is retiring this month and has accepted the post of instructor at Murray State College, Kentucky.

Mary, one of the nine high school winners in the area of the $100 award as an outstanding student, presented by California Savings and Loan, graduated from CHS June 12. In September she will enter William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Virginia. Her major will be biology and she has already been accepted as a staff member of the college paper, "Flat Hat."

At graduation last week she won a Gold C award as the outstanding girl in the senior class.

When can you see it?

BUILDING SITE FOR BIRD WATCHERS

If you're imaginative and want to build your home in an unusually tranquil setting, we'd like to show you 4.7 acres in and on the River up in sunny Carmel Valley. Bring your sketch pad, sneakers, a sack of seed for the birds, and we'll provide a picnic lunch. The price is $20,000. (Without the lunch, $19,999.10).

BORN UNDER A WANDERING STAR?

Then all you really need in Carmel is a little cottage where you can hang your hat. It should be NICE, though, so you won't spend all your time housekeeping, and have a low maintenance patio and yard. How about $19,500 for a price?

WE UNDERSTAND THAT PEOPLE who can buy homes in the $80,000 price range do not read classified columns. However, we have an impression that perhaps people get into that higher bracket because they did read those columns. Anyhow, if $82,500 is in your range, you'll never find a greater bargain or a lovelier home than the four-bedroom one Mrs. Ireland just listed, because the owners had just finished hanging the Czech glass and Spanish brass light fixtures and laying the 248 sq. yds. of carpeting when their plans changed and they listed the house below replacement. In one of the loveliest areas of Hatton Fields, too.

AND DOWN ON SAN ANTONIO

we have a lovely home with separate guest quarters which has one of the most gracious living rooms we've ever seen. On a different level from the rest of the house, and overlooking the ocean. Two beautiful bedrooms and maid's room in the main house, lovely dining room and bar facilities. Interesting entrance court and sunny, enclosed patio. We are offering this property at $75,000.

Juvenile Delinquency No Major Problem

represent Carmel police, the sheriff's department, the Carmel Unified School District, high school and junior high parents clubs, the city council, Carmel and the unincorporated area around it.

On Monday Mr. Yurkovich said, "American parents are the greatest protective association in history."

Too often, he added, in 14 years of work with juveniles he heard from parents the question, "What are you doing to my kid?" The answer to this should be "What are you doing for your child?" he said.

He cited as an example of parent disinterest a wrestling exhibition at the junior high in which 156 boys took part, and only 29 fathers came to watch.

Similarly, when 200 girls at the school gave an athletic program, only 80 mothers were present.

"We have to get parents to school functions," he emphasized and added that Carmel has more a parental than a juvenile problem. He advocated "doing instead of talking" for parents.

Mr. Lewis, who worked with juveniles in some of the worst areas of Chicago before coming to Carmel, stressed the fact that "a delinquent always has a history" going back to early childhood. He advocated coordinated action, research and counseling to aid a "deviant" early in life. Carmel, as yet, has no "typical" delinquent group, he observed.

Superintendent Bair stated, "A juvenile delinquent is in continuous and progressive trouble. The problem is difficult and rests in his past."

Behavior boundaries should be set early in life and gradually opened up as a child is able to assume responsibility, Mr. Bair advised. Delinquency in Carmel is a matter of a "few youngsters" was his opinion.

Chief Klaumann thought children should be taught early to respect the rights and properties of others, and especially the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal." Carmel police deal, predominately, with juveniles outside the school district he told the group.

Sheriff Davenport declared that, compared to the rest of Monterey County, Carmel has no delinquency problem. Delinquency is developed over a long period of time and parents should realize this, also that their children can do wrong. He ended by urging parents to spend more time with their children.

In Judge Harrah's opinion, Carmel has a potential problem although delinquency is confined to a few individuals now. He advised against children being given the privileges of adults without being able to take on the responsibilities, also that parents should lay down rules and demand that children comply.

Police Commissioner Buffington deplored the fact that families are not spending enough time with their children.

Nancy Baxter, speaking for Youth Center members, thought Carmel has a potential delinquency problem and needs a counseling service for parents.

"Young people need rules," she said.

Jay Lang, Carmel High School student body president, told the group that a lack of communication exists between parents and their children.

"Teenagers should accept what parents say as law," he declared.

High School Principal Warren Edwards suggested that parents "desperately need help and advice," and that a community code of ethics would be an advantage to them.

Steve Meadows, junior high student, believed any individual delinquency in this area came from teenagers having "too much time on their hands."

Tom Hudson Jr., high school student, said, "I go along with parents not spending enough time with their children. If children are given enough to do they don't get in trouble. There is not enough to do in this community," he pointed out.

Mrs. Karen Hicks, Youth Center adult board president, wanted more time given to children and advocated chores as a solution for idle time.

Commander William C. Stowers, president of the high school parents club, was an advocate of strict discipline and work to prevent delinquency.

Mrs. Edgar Haber, Girl Scout leader, said, "I certainly don't think a 24-hour entertainment should be provided by the community. Children should give service to the community."

Mr. Giovanetti of the county probation department remarked, "Kids are a lot better organized than parents." He was in favor of parents taking care of their own problems rather than leaving them to juvenile courts.

"The police need backing up by community participation," he stated.

After remarking, "There is a core of community pride and a desire for action and not so much talking," Mr. Blanks appointed Mr. Yurkovich to head the permanent committee on juvenile problems and pledged the support of the city to this group.

The Dolphin, "Hank" Fonseca's newest luxury motel was previewed by Peninsula celebrities on Wednesday with Monterey's Mayor George Clemens and Mrs. Clemens, and Mayor Herbert Blanks of Carmel and Mrs. Blanks, the honor guests. The $650,000 hostelry at the corner of San Carlos and Fourth is now open to guests where they will find the beautiful new Marquis Restaurant a meeting place for epicures.

Carmelites Receive University Degrees Across The Nation

MR. CRAIG RETURNS

Last Friday evening Donald Craig, instructor in Spanish, watched the Class of 1964 graduate from Carmel High School. His presence was unexpected as he was on a year's sabbatical leave. However, he timed his return from European travels and visits to schools across the United States to see the boys and girls he had taught receive their high school diplomas. The rest of the summer he will spend at his property in the Trinity Alps.

AT COUNSELING INSTITUTE

Neil M. Jensen of Carmel is one of 30 high school counselors from all over the United States who enrolled Monday in a special National Defense Education Act counseling and guidance summer session institute on the Fresno State College campus.

He will be studying the latest techniques in student counseling and was from a list of 800 applicants. The institute is being financed via a $37,000 federal government loan.

Summer School Starts Monday

The Carmel Unified School District is again offering a summer school program, starting Monday, for students who in the fall of 1964 will be in grades 2-12.

Because of the small enrollment at Tularcitos, the district is combining the summer elementary program there with River School in Carmel from 8:30 a.m. to noon. This will give the students a better and fuller summer school program. All students registered for the elementary division should report on Monday at 8:30 a.m.

The junior high and high school summer school will meet at the high school daily from 8:25 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The junior high runs for a period of 6 weeks ending July 21. The high school runs from June 22-August 14. Driver education will meet from 1-3 p.m. daily for four weeks, and driving time will be scheduled.

Class lists and times scheduled for those taking 2 hour classes will be posted on the bulletin board at the high school.

When he was in Carmel, Dr. McCain recommended hosing with water as treatment for the affected trees. He advised against trimming off the browned growth.
